African International Relations (POLs 3169/AFRS 4105) Spring 2019
Monday/Wednesday 2:30-3:45 p.m.
Fretwell 406

Professor: Dr. Beth Elise Whitaker
Email: bwhitaker@uncc.edu

Office: Fretwell 445H
Phone: 704-687-7479

Office hours: Monday/Wednesday 1-2 p.m. and by appointment (Fretwell 445H)

Course Objectives:
Long marginalized within the international system, Africa has garnered renewed attention in recent years. External actors seek connections with African countries on a range of issues, including energy supplies, trade and investment, and humanitarian concerns. Celebrities like Bono, George Clooney, and Angelina Jolie have brought attention to the continent in their own ways. Within Africa, leaders have demonstrated greater willingness to intervene in the affairs of their neighbors, with positive and negative effects. This course aims to increase students’ understanding of African international relations within the continent and beyond. We examine the historical context, the politics of aid dependence, conflict and security in the region, and Africa’s external relations (including with Europe, China, and especially the United States). Through lectures, articles, novels, memoirs, documentaries, and debates, students will learn to better understand the news they hear about Africa and to evaluate U.S. policy in the region.

Course Requirements:
Students must complete the following requirements, with points distributed as noted:

- 15% Participation (includes attendance, discussion, etc.)
- 5% Map quiz
- 5% Debate
- 10% Book quizzes
- 15% Current event analysis
- 25% Midterm exam
- 25% Final exam

Participation: You are expected to do the assigned readings before class and be prepared for discussion. Attendance is required and quality contributions are rewarded. Each class begins with a discussion of current events in Africa (check the BBC Africa page and AllAfrica regularly for updates).

Map quiz: The quiz will cover the locations and names of countries and major cities from the map posted on Canvas. Spelling counts for countries only; you will match cities to the corresponding country.

Debate: Each student is required to participate as part of a team in one of four debates. The class will be divided into eight teams, two for each debate; students will receive individual grades. The broad topics are listed in the syllabus. Specific resolutions and detailed instructions will be posted on Canvas.

Book quizzes: The quizzes will test your knowledge about the two assigned books (Nuruddin Farah’s novel Gifts and Ishmael Beah’s memoir A Long Way Gone). If you have read the books thoroughly, you should not have problems with these questions.

Current event analysis: Each student will write a 2,000-word analysis of a current event in African international relations (i.e. something in the news). The paper will include an overview of the situation, background, in-depth analysis, and international implications. Further guidelines will be posted on Canvas and all papers will go through VeriCite.
Exams: The midterm will cover the first half of the course and the final will cover the second half. For each exam, you will answer six short answer questions and one essay question. The exams will be conducted through Canvas and you are allowed to use your notes.

REQUIRED READING MATERIALS:
The books listed below are available at the bookstore. Readings marked with an asterisk (*) are linked through Canvas (http://canvas.uncc.edu). The site also includes lecture slides, grades, and other course information. For assignment changes and other updates, check your UNC Charlotte email account regularly.

LECTURE AND READING SCHEDULE (subject to change):

Historical Context

January 9: Introduction & overview

January 14: Africa in international relations
Whitaker & Clark, Chapter 1: “Understanding Africa’s International Relations”

January 16 & 23: Colonialism and its legacy (MAP QUIZ Wednesday January 23rd)
Whitaker & Clark, Chapter 2: “From Kingdoms to States”

January 28 & 30: Cold War competition for Africa
Whitaker & Clark, Chapter 3: “Africa During the Cold War”

The Politics of Aid Dependence

February 4: Foreign aid and economic development
Whitaker & Clark, Chapter 4: “Foreign Aid and Economic Conditionality”

February 6: DEBATE #1 on marketing products to support development causes (Teams A & B)

February 11: Foreign aid and political reform
Whitaker & Clark, Chapter 5: “External Pressures for Political Reform and Human Rights”
February 13: “Good Fortune” documentary

February 18: The pursuit of African integration
   Whitaker & Clark, Chapter 6: “The Elusive Goal of African Unity”

February 20: DEBATE #2 on African participation in the International Criminal Court (Teams C & D)

February 25: BOOK QUIZ and discussion about Nuruddin Farah’s Gifts (read entire book)

February 27: MIDTERM EXAM (available on Canvas at 8:00 a.m. for 24 hours)

Conflict and Security in Africa

March 11 & 13: Regional security challenges
   Whitaker & Clark, Chapter 7: “The Regionalization of Conflict”

March 18: DEBATE #3 on restoring conflict minerals provisions of Dodd-Frank law (Teams E & F)
   Freudenthal, Emmanuel. 2017. “Who pays the hidden price for Congo’s conflict-free minerals?” IRIN (February 14). (Also read this response by Sasha Lezhnev.)

March 20 & 25: The politics of humanitarian assistance
   Whitaker & Clark, Chapter 8: “Humanitarian Assistance and Peace Operations”
   Watch “Kony 2012” documentary (30 minutes).

March 27: BOOK QUIZ and discussion about Ishmael Beah’s A Long Way Gone (read entire book)

April 1 & 3: Refugees and migration
   Whitaker & Clark, Chapter 9: “The Politics of Migration”
   Play “Find Me in Kakuma” and learn about the lives of children in a Kenyan refugee camp.

Africa’s External Relations

April 8 & 10: Africa’s relations with Europe and Asia
   Whitaker & Clark, Chapters 11 (“Africa and Europe”) & 12 (“Africa and the Emerging Powers”)

April 15: DEBATE #4 on emerging power engagement in Africa (Teams G & H)
April 17 & 22: U.S. policy toward Africa
Whitaker & Clark, Chapter 10: “Africa and the United States”

April 24: Securitization of U.S.-African relations

April 29: Building a constituency for Africa in the United States (CURRENT EVENT ANALYSIS DUE)
Whitaker & Clark, Chapter 13: “International Relations and Domestic Politics Entwined”

May 6: FINAL EXAM (available on Canvas during exam time 2:00-4:30 p.m.)

PROFESSIONAL BEHAVIOR:
You are all adults and will be treated as such. In return, you are expected to behave as adults and to conduct yourself in a professional manner. This includes addressing the professor appropriately, using proper grammar and punctuation in your emails, and treating one another with respect. Examples of unprofessional behavior include but are not limited to: leaving your phone on during class, texting during class, leaving class once it has started (unless it is an absolute emergency), arriving late to class, and emailing the professor as if you were sending a text message to a friend. As adults, you can determine legitimate reasons to miss class; I do not get into the business of determining excused versus unexcused absences. Instead, you are given two “personal days” during the term to use as you wish; any additional absences after these two will be penalized.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY:
Students have the responsibility to know and observe the requirements of the UNC Charlotte Code of Student Academic Integrity. This code forbids cheating, fabrication or falsification of information, multiple submissions of academic work, plagiarism, abuse of academic materials, and complicity in academic dishonesty. Students who violate the code can be expelled from UNC Charlotte. The normal penalty for a first offense is zero credit on the work involving dishonesty and further substantial reduction of the course grade. In almost all cases, the course grade is reduced to "F." Standards of academic integrity will be enforced in this course. Students are expected to report cases of academic dishonesty to the course instructor.

DISABILITY SERVICES:
UNC Charlotte is committed to access to education. If you have a disability and need academic accommodations, please send me your accommodation letter as early as possible in the semester. You are encouraged to meet with me to discuss the accommodations outlined in your letter. For more information on accommodations, contact the Office of Disability Services at 704-687-0040 (Fretwell 230).

COUNSELING CENTER:
The Center for Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) offers individual counseling, group counseling, couples counseling, and consultative services at no charge to students. Students come to counseling to get help for a variety of concerns, including anxiety, symptoms of depression, and relationship issues. To make an initial appointment with a counselor, call 704-687-0311 or stop by CAPS in the building behind the Student Health Center. This first session will help you assess your needs with a counselor and make a plan for how best to address your concerns. CAPS also offers outreach programs including prevention, awareness, and education about mental health treatment.